

*Brazos Valley**
Farmers' Market

---

---

GRAND OPENING
SATURDAY

When: June 18th, 2011

Time: 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m.

Where: Corner of Texas Ave. & William J. Bryan Pkwy.

*across the street from Brazos County Courthouse

Fresh Farm Products NOW Available:

*cantaloupe, yard eggs, watermelons, tomatoes, onions, radishes,
local honey, herbs, ornamental plants, greens, squash, peppers,
grass-fed beef, and other farm fresh products.*

Hello,

Thank you so much for taking a look at our Public Service Announcements containing exciting news concerning our local farmers' market. This Saturday, June 18th, will be the market's Grand Opening! To make this day really special we will have the crown from the historic Queen Theater located in Downtown Bryan, as well as an event called "Market to Menu".

Come see the Crown

The famous crown from the Queen Theater will be on display at the market this Saturday! No charge for admission and pictures with the crown will be completely free of charge! The Queen Theater is near and dear to the hearts of many here in Bryan so everyone should come and see one of many symbols of Bryan, Texas' historical Downtown life.

Market to Menu

"Market to Menu: Breakfast with the Farmers" is an event that we've been cooking up for some time now. Three authors, Pam Walker, Doug Welsh, and Bill Adams will be at the event to sign each of their books, Growing Good Things to Eat in Texas, Texas Garden Almanac, and The Texas Tomato Lover's Handbook. In addition to the book signing, a chef from the Messina Hof will be using produce from the market to do cooking demonstrations, which of course includes handing out free samples.

On a weekly basis, the Brazos Valley Farmers' Market offers fresh locally grown vegetables and fruits for sale every Saturday morning. Growers of all sizes, from small backyard gardens to hundreds of acres, are encouraged to join the Farmers' Market for the upcoming season. It is the purpose of the Brazos Valley Farmers' Market to benefit both growers and consumers by allowing the growers to offer consumers fresh produce, locally grown, without the expense of a middleman, in a wholesome and neighborly atmosphere. By helping each other, we help our community flourish. For more info. Call (979) 775-9500, e-mail gendron@suddenlinkmail.com, or you can email me back at annethevonk@yahoo.com. Also visit our website at www.brazosvalleyfarmersmarket.com.

Brazos Valley Farmers' Market

Eating local Since 1997

CONNECTING CONSUMERS DIRECTLY TO LOCAL FOOD

MARKET TO MENU

Breakfast with the Farmers

Learn How to transform your fresh local veggies from the Brazos Valley Farmers' Market into a meal your whole family will love!

Saturday 8am-12pm

June 18, 2011

Chef demonstrations &
FREE omlette samples
9:30am - 11:30am

Special Guests

Pam Walker author of Growing Good Things to Eat in Texas

Doug Welsh author of Texas Garden Almanac

Bill Adams author of Texas Tomato Lovers Handbook

For More information visit:
<http://www.brazosvalleyfarmersmarket.com/>