In response to the release by the Arts Council of Brazos Valley through Gaines West office, to set the record straight, I realized over the holidays that I had used an Arts Council American Express credit card for a total of $697.70. I told Amy Salvaggio, Deputy Director of the ACBV and told her I would contact the treasurer, Jeff Vander Woude, and write a letter to the file and a check to cover the expenses. I talked with Jeff Vander Woude, treasurer, of the Arts Council that I had done that. I also told Pam Smits, President of the Arts Council that I had done that and written a letter and given a check to Amy Salvaggio. A resignation letter was offered and never accepted. I have had no contact or response from the Board or anyone.
